

INSURANCE INFORMATION FOR INVERTRAC

USA - General CPT Codes used for billing

FOR SALE TO PATIENT

CPT #99070	Material & supplies sold to patient. Bill the same as a back brace.
Description	Medical home traction unit . The Invertrac is a medical device offering the patient with low back pain the option of using gravity to decompress the bony processes of the spine and allow the intervertebral discs the benefit of increased circulation and pressure relief. In some cases this device will allow great pain relief and may even prevent further medical intervention and surgery.
Prescription & Medical Necessity	State your diagnosis and if possible that the patient has used inversion therapy at your office with good results and would benefit from a home traction device such as the Invertrac.
Other information to include	Include an Invertrac brochure or picture in with your letter and claim.

When prescribed by a medical professional:

DME HCPCS Code E0900	Traction stand, free standing, pelvic traction
